

Schedule now available for CBTE 2020: Virtual Edition

BY RUTH MCGILLIVRAY

CBTE 2020—the third annual conference on competency-based theological education—will be offered as a dedicated track within CBExchange: Virtual Edition, the premier conference on competency-based education, November 10 to 13. The CBTE track schedule is now available on cbte.ca and offers a complete overview of CBTE sessions and speakers.

CBTE 2020 and CBExchange will feature general and breakout sessions, daily jump starts, and networking sessions. Of particular interest to many may be the “Under the Hood” session on Wednesday, November 11, that will offer participants a tour of the programs and/or LMS platforms of several CBE and CBTE schools who run competency-based programs. Visit cbte.ca for a full listing of speakers and conference sessions.

Multiple ticket types are available for the conference:

- Individual Access—paid registration, unlimited access for one individual
- Boardroom Broadcast—paid registration, unlimited access for eight individuals from one institution
- Limited Access—free registration, limited access for one individual

Competency-Based Theological Education

ATS is offering a limited number of 80% discounts to member schools, applicable to the Individual Access registration. Discounts are also available for ATS member schools wishing to purchase a Boardroom Broadcast registration. Please request the discount code prior to registration through the “Contact Us” page of the cbte.ca website, and use that same link to request information.

Paid registrations also come with a CBExchange Event Box that includes resources, snacks, sponsor swag, and other items to keep the online conference experience engaging and enjoyable.

For those who are curious about the principles and practice of CBTE or who would simply like to browse the conference, the free Limited Access registration allows access to all CBTE general sessions, as well as CBE general sessions and daily jump starts.

Register today on the CBExchange website to join us!
